Educational toys and games company GrowUpSmart has recently completed a survey on the popularity of their different products. What the survey found was that many parents are purchasing the Smart Tactics Backgammon set as a Christmas or birthday gift for their children. The backgammon set, which is currently available on Amazon, is proving to be one of the company's most popular items.

GrowUpSmart's founder, Martin Reinhold, says: "When we founded our company, the goal was to provide people with the opportunity to get hold of games that are not just fun, but also educational. We have completed a survey to find out not just which games people are buying, but also why and to whom these will be given to. We are so pleased to see that the backgammon set is proving to be a popular gift for children and young people."

Backgammon is one of the world's oldest games. Various studies have shown it to be a very educational game, promoting important skills, such as math, probability, and strategic thinking. Archeological and historical records have shown that backgammon was first played some 3,000 years ago, and that it was particularly popular in the areas where some of the world's greatest minds existed, including ancient Persia and Greece.

The GrowUpSmart backgammon set comes in a leather briefcase, which opens up to be the board. The board is inlaid with green, red, and white felt. It comes with convenient storage spaces for the pieces and dice, as well as a dice cup for each player. Furthermore, those who purchase the backgammon set will be able to access instructional videos on how to play the game, giving them an introduction to some of the most important strategies as well.

People have commented on the game set's beauty and durability. "Very nice and well put together. Seems like it'll last for a while....," says Charles P. on Amazon. They have also mentioned how they have purchased it as a gift, which is what was further proven through GrowUpSmart's own survey. People are encouraged to visit the company's Amazon store or their own website for further information or to purchase the set.
