February 04, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Grampstr's Pride, an Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania based company, has announced that they recently showcased their biodegradable and environmentally friendly products at the annual St. Petersburg Power & Sail Boat Show. The boat show was held during December 2016 beginning on December 1 and ran until December 4. The company during that time set up a booth where they offered a look at their cleaning products.

Joe Chaudoin with the company says, "We had a blast, and met a lot of wonderful people. At our booth, we had an inflatable boat on site to conduct cleaning demonstrations, which was pretty great.?"

The company states that during the event, they sold boat cleaning products to customers for 25 percent off retail and that they offered a free Grampstr's Pride tote bag with one quart each of different products.

"We gave away our Renew, which is a fiberglass and stainless steel stain remover; as well as React, our enzymatic holding tank treatment; Reshine, a wash and wax; Revive, our leather and vinyl cleaner; and Reflect, our boat soap," says Chaudoin.

Joe Chaudoin states that a quart of the company's Refresh, an HE laundry detergent was also offered in the tote bag. He states that the Grampstr's Pride Boat Show Special ends December 9th, and says that customers were more than pleased with their products. Overall, the company states that the event was a huge success and that they hope to be able to attend the next annual show.

The company is offering a number of Grampstr's Pride Boat Cleaning Products on their official website where those interested can also learn more about the company itself and any other upcoming events that they plan to take part in. Chaudoin states that there are always opportunities to set up a booth at trade shows and give customers a glimpse of what their natural products can do. He states that the company hopes to see all boat lovers at the next event, where the company will again set up and showcase their biodegradable cleaning products. Those interested can also purchase the products directly from the company's official website.
