

Long Island City Vending Firm Marks 12 Years In Operation

November 28, 2016

November 28, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Intelligent Foods On Demand offers luxury vending service for New York City and the entire United States. Since the founding in 2004, it has worked to promote consumption of organic, gluten free and healthy products in the luxury vending machines.

Long Island City NY: Intelligent Foods on Demand and Managing Partner Pasha Royzman are pleased to announce that they have marked the milestone of twelve years in business. The firm provides healthy foods and products which are organic and free of gluten. IFOD uses only state-of-the-art vending machines in its New York City locations, as well as elsewhere in the United States. IFOD provides cutting edge equipment for its vending companies New York City locations.

According to a spokesperson for the firm, "Our luxury vending machines offer a range of services and options that are unavailable elsewhere. These include touch screen technology, cash or cashless payment options, 24/7 live customer service, remote monitoring of inventory and client specific web-based reporting. The equipment is designed to offer the latest-to-market energy efficient capabilities. Our goal is to be the most client and customer focused vending company in the nation."

"We believe that we must ensure a seamless automated service, provide the widest array of premium product selections customized to our clients' needs," he continues, "and make their transactions as effortless as possible. This belief forms the foundation for the solid relationship between us and our clients."

IFOD provides a multi-million dollar insurance policy with each client added as an additionally insured party. This feature ensure protection at each location where the machines are placed. There is a client-specific web-based access in place for each location. The web information is completely transparent in regards to each machine's service schedule, products offered and the pricing of each. Clients have full control and on-demand customization.

There are a number of equipment options, including standard, chilled or dual-zone temperature choices, multiple compact sizes, integrated eco-friendly, power-conservative refrigeration, and LED lighting equipped with motion activated energy-saving technology. The machines are constructed of stainless steel and glass with intuitive full-color touchscreen user interfaces.

For more information about them, visit <http://intelfoods.com>.

###

For more information about Intelligent Foods On Demand, contact the company here: Intelligent Foods On Demand Pasha Royzman, Managing Partner (917) 440-6833 pasha@intelfoods.com 41-43 24th Street, Long Island City, NY 11101

Intelligent Foods On Demand

Website: <http://intelfoods.com>

Email: pasha@intelfoods.com

Phone: (917) 440-6833

Powered by PressAdvantage.com