Family Dentistry & Aesthetics offers a range of dental procedures to improve smile appearance and dental health of area patients. The Smile Gallery contains the latest examples of successful dental procedures, including veneers, bridges, implants and more.

Fort Wayne IN: Family Dentistry & Aesthetics and Dr. Thomas T. Teel, DDS are pleased to announce that the Smile Gallery on the website continues to grow and expand, with happy patients ready to demonstrate Before and After smiles. Several techniques are evident in the new photos posted online. These include Fort Wayne veneers, implants, bridges and other techniques which improve appearance and dental health.

Porcelain veneers are thin ceramic shells which are intended to cover the surface of the teeth to improve the elements of size, length, shape and color. Patients who have stained, severely discolored, damaged, improperly positioned or teeth which have gaps between them often choose the veneers, a fast and painless dental smile improvement procedure. Each shell of porcelain is designed to fit the teeth, gums and mouth, so that it provides a natural appearance to the smile.

Speaking in an interview recently, Dr. Teel DDS explained, "For installation of a dental bridge Fort Wayne patients receive an artificial tooth which fits into a gap left by a missing tooth. The artificial dental device is designed to look and feel just like the nearby natural teeth. Missing teeth can create problems with surrounding teeth, unless a bridge or other dental device is put in place. Placing a bridge protects the underlying gum and jaw structure."

Huntertown denture implants are another type of artificial teeth, used when there are one or more missing teeth. The term "implants" means that the artificial tooth root is placed into the bone of the jaw. The post holds a replacement tooth or a bridge. In order to be eligible for an implant, the patient must have good general oral health and have lost a tooth due to periodontal disease, injury or other reason. Once in place, the implant is virtually indistinguishable from a natural tooth.
