January 06, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Scottsdale, AZ lead generation company Mojo Global has been helping businesses achieve the goal of getting more leads, which ultimately results in more revenue. Around a year ago, the company announced that they had developed a new service specific to B2B business and now, they have proven that their proprietary lead generation system is capable of helping clients significantly. They have now announced that the Mojo Global marketing services increase B2B leads and revenue, and this has made it one of the top companies of its kind globally.

Cory Michael Sanchez, who is the co-founder of Mojo Global and the brains behind their proprietary software and system, says: "One year ago, we announced that we would strive to exceed the expectations of the people we work with and the entrepreneurs we serve. From taking ownership of responsibilities outside of our job description, to remaining committed to a project from start to finish, we would go above and beyond to make a positive impact on everything we do. This is exactly what we have now achieved."

To enable more people to get to know what Mojo Global is and how it can help their business, the company has also released the Mojo Global free information kit. This kit introduces people to the system, how it works, and how it can benefit them. It enables businesses to try out whether or not the system works for them before they sign up for it.

Throughout the past year, Mojo Global has received numerous positive reviews about their service. The Mojo Global 5-star review by Nick L. is indicative of the opinion of many of their other clients. "I started using the Mojo Marketer for LinkedIn a little less than a month ago," he says, "and it has already transformed my business. I have been getting an average of 40 new targeted connections per day."

People are encouraged to visit the Mojo Global website to find more about the system and how it can benefit them, and to access the Mojo Global free information kit.
