Brendale-based Flag Firm Releases Informative Website

December 07, 2016

December 07, 2016 -
Australian Flag firm offers a well-designed and informative website to spotlight its many quality products. Since 2003, the firm has been growing its world-wide client and customer base through online sales.

Brendale QLD: Australian Flag Makers and Ben Beazley are pleased to announce the implementation of their online web pages which present their sales and ordering information, as well as a catalogue of product categories. With a major presence online, the company has an affiliated firm in the United States, and maintains offices and factories in Australia. The growing market for custom flag products in Australia is matched by the major market in the United States. The design of the website makes ordering products in many categories, convenient and fast.

While the website discusses custom made flags, that is not the only product displayed on the site. Customers can look for flags of different sizes, table covers, banners, marquees and car flag items. The website also features wearables and a separate section for Australian national flags. Accessories and stands for various types of flags are available in the online boutique.

Speaking in a recent interview, Ben Beazley explained, ?We offer a wide range of flag, banner and similar promotional products. Our product line includes large and small items. The quality of each category and product is what has made our company growth so fast. You can search or browse the website, using the tabs. Direct links to some of the products make it easy to find the items you are looking for.?

The website features additional information about the construction of flags and the right care for flags. Specifics about the stitching and the materials used in the products is available online. For custom flag orders, there is a location and explanations of how to uphold artist's designs so that they can be incorporated into the overall flag or other product. Customers can submit their own designs or can work with the company designers to create a unique design and product. A choice of colours is part of the customisation process.
