Be Happy Bracelet for Sensitive Skin Released by Baubelle

December 16, 2016

December 16, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Many people who are currently looking for beautiful and unique gifts due to the holiday season would be happy to know that Baubelle, a jewelry business in Cheyenne, WY, has announced the latest addition to their inspirational collection of bracelets, specifically the Be Happy Bracelet. It joins other popular models, such as the "She Believed She Could So She Did" and the "Love the Life You Live" bracelets.

"This latest bracelet has a simple message to women all over the world, and this is to be happy no matter what," says Baubelle's Sarah Evren. "Our pieces are created to be unique and stylish, and to make a true fashion statement, while at the same time empowering women to see just how strong and resilient they are."

As with the other Baubelle pieces, the new Be Happy bracelet is available in 18k gold, rose gold, or white gold plating. This is a high quality plating that will not tarnish or rust, and that is fully hypoallergenic so that it doesn't lead to irritation, itchiness, or skin discoloration. As such, it is perfectly suited to women with sensitive skin, or those with metal allergies.

The full range of Baubelle bracelets are stackable and expandable. This means that it is possible to wear multiple bracelets at the same time. Additionally, they have been designed to fit most older teens and adult women alike. Created to be gifts for others or for yourself, Baubelle includes their signature gift wrap with each purchase, which is a beautiful turquoise and gold slide out box with a shimmery fabric pull tab, thus perfect for the holiday season.

All Baubelle bracelets are covered under a no questions asked, 100% money back guarantee that is valid for one whole year. This guarantee also extends to the receiver of the gift, if the bracelet was purchased as a present. "What we wanted to achieve is to make sure women can wear a piece of jewelry that is of the highest possible quality, but at a price tag that they can afford," adds Sarah Evren. "We feel we have achieved that, which is why we are confident about offering a full year's money back guarantee."

The entire Baubelle collection of expandable, stackable bracelets is currently available on Amazon.com, where each individual piece has received numerous positive reviews.
