While people often struggle to find unique and unusual gifts for people they care about around Valentine's, jewelry is always a firm favorite. This is why Baubelle, a Cheyenne, WY jewelry business, is proud to announce the latest addition to their "Be" bracelet collection, specifically the Be Strong bracelet, to their sensitive skin line. Other elements of this particular collection are the Be Thankful and the Be Happy bracelets.

Baubelle's owner and founder, Sarah Evren, says: "Our collection is designed for women who need to be reminded of just how strong and resilient they are, and how wonderful life can be. Our 'Be Strong' model is one of our most beautiful yet, if I do say so myself."

Baubelle prides itself on creating unique pieces of jewelry that are particularly suited to those with sensitive skin. The bracelet is 18K yellow, rose, or white gold plated and fully hypoallergenic. This means the material will not rust or tarnish, nor will it cause any allergic reactions such as itchiness, irritation, or skin discoloration.

The bracelet can be purchase on its own, or as part of the wider Be collection. The bracelets are all stackable and look gorgeous put together, but equally nice on their own. Additionally, as they are expandable, they can fit on the wrist of older teens and adult women alike. The bracelets are delivered in individual signature gift boxes, which is a gold and turquoise slide out box with a shimmery fabric pull tab. The presentation of the gift boxes and the bracelets themselves make them a perfect choice for gift giving this Valentine's season.

Baubelle's bracelets are currently available exclusively on Amazon.com. Each bracelet is also covered by a one year 100% money back guarantee, which extends not just to the person purchasing the bracelet, but also to those who receive it. "We believe in the quality of our product and we know that people will love it," adds Sarah Evren. "This is why we are so confident in extending such a lengthy guarantee to each of our bracelets."

The Be range of bracelets is one of Baubelle's most popular lines. The Be Strong bangle has already received numerous positive reviews, despite having only recently been launched on the Amazon store front.
