Be Bracelet Set Added to Holiday Gift List of Baubelle

December 16, 2016

December 16, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The holiday season is a time of year in which it is important to be grateful, and to be happy. This is why Baubelle, a jewelry manufacturer in Cheyenne, WY, has added their Be bracelet set to their recommended holiday gifts list. There are a number of different styles within the set that are available individually, and are designed to inspire women to be positive about who they are.

Founder and owner of Baubelle, Sarah Evren, says: "Our Be collection includes the Be Thankful, Be Happy, Be Strong, Be Brave, Be Kind, and Be Strong bangle bracelets. They are stackable, adjustable bracelets suitable for women with sensitive skin. We love this particular collection and are very happy to see others agree with us."

All Baubelle bracelets are plated in 18k gold (yellow, rose, or white) and are hypoallergenic. The company stands for quality, creating pieces that have fine jewelry quality, but at an affordable price tag. Due to the material, they do not rust or tarnish, nor do they cause allergic reactions such as irritation, itchiness, or skin discoloration. As such, they make the perfect addition to any holiday gift list.

The Baubelle collections have all been very positively received, but none as much as the Be line. According to many customers, this is due not just to the quality, comfort, and beauty of the pieces, but also because the messages are so inspirational, empowering women all over the world to be the best they can be. "I thought it would be a nice present to give to my wife just because. But it's a lot nicer than I first thought. I just might save it better for a special day. I know she will love it," says Randy C. at Amazon.

All the Baubelle pieces are currently available on Amazon.com. The bracelets are available individually and make beautiful gifts, particularly because they are presented in the signature turquoise and gold gift box, which gives them an even more exclusive appeal. People are encouraged to review the entire collection, however, as the bracelets look beautiful when paired together and stacked as well.
