Be True Bracelet Added to Holiday Gift List of Baubelle

December 16, 2016

December 16, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Baubelle, a jewelry company in Cheyenne, WY, has created a list of recommended holiday gifts. Included in this list is their popular Be True bracelet, which is part of the wider line of 'Be' bracelets. This particular bracelet has been found to be particularly inspirational, which is why it has been added to the company's list of suggested gifts.

Sarah Evren from Baubelle says: "We have created a Christmas gift list with all of our popular products, and the Be True bracelet tops the list. This particular bracelet embodies everything this company stands for: quality, style, uniqueness, and inspiration. We're happy to see that so many people love it."

The Be True bracelet has been included in the holiday gift list because it is not just beautiful, but it is inspirational as well. It has been designed to remind women, and particularly older teens and young adults, to be true to who they really are, no matter what life throws at them. Baubelle is committed to creating jewelry of the finest quality, but at an affordable price tag, thereby ensuring more women can be reminded of their strength and resilience. To achieve that, the bracelets in their Be collection are 18k gold (yellow, rose, white) plated in such a way that they will not rust nor tarnish. Furthermore, they are hypoallergenic, meaning they will not lead to allergic reactions like irritation, itchiness, or skin discoloration, even in those with a metal allergy.

The product's uniqueness, style, and high quality have all stood out among the company's many reviewers. "I recently bought this for my girlfriend and she loves it. She wears it every day, and often gets compliments for it. Would definitely recommend this product, especially for guys looking to get a present for their significant others," says Nathan S. on Amazon.

Each piece created by Baubelle has gift giving in mind. This is why the adjustable bracelets are also fully stackable, should people decide to purchase more than one. Furthermore, they are all presented in a stylish and unique signature turquoise and gold gift box and why they are covered under a 100%, no questions asked, money back guarantee for one year. All the Baubelle products are currently available on Amazon.com as well.
