Cardea Luxe Skin Care, a company in Reno, NV, is famous for its unique, high quality eye cream product, which is based on hyaluronic acid. Full details about the product are available on the company website at http://www.cardealuxe.com. They are proud to announce that they have now released a new piece of research that shows the scientifically proven benefits of this substance in terms of skin care.

Joseph Meli from Cardea Luxe Skin Care says: "Hyaluronic acid is a "polysaccharide" (complex carbohydrate) or "glycosaminoglycan". The highest concentration (almost 50%) is found in the skin, where it helps to retain collagen and provide elasticity, flexibility and structure due to it's amazing ability to increase moisture. Our research has demonstrated that, when added to skincare products, Hyaluronic Acid is not only one of the prime hydrating ingredients found in the finest skincare products, it also provides powerful anti-skin aging and anti-inflammatory benefits."

Writing an extensive article on their research into the benefits of hyaluronic acid for skincare, the company raises some important issues, including how it has strong properties that fight skin aging. Furthermore, the acid is now recommended by dermatologists and other skin care experts. In addition, the substance also has various other benefits, including the fact that it can help to treat other skin conditions, such as bites, cold sores, wounds, ulcers, and sunburns.

Besides the fact that there is now a lot of scientific evidence to prove the benefits of hyaluronic acid, Cardea Luxe Skin Care also feels that reviews from their customers speak for themselves, further proving the benefits of the skincare product. "I really like this Cardea Luxe eye cream," says one customer on the company's website. "I soaks into my skin quickly and works under my make-up as well. I has not broken me out but has made my skin very soft. It has lots of great things such as age-defying peptides, botanicals, pure plant oils, organic vitamins and minerals, skin boosting and rebuilding Matrixyl 3000 and an ocean-based Retinol, which is a key ingredient for radiant-looking eyes that belay your age."

People are encouraged to review the information on the benefits of hyaluronic acid to further understand the benefits of the Cardea Luxe Skin Care product.
