Precision Signz, a company based in Bettendorf, IA, has recently moved to a new 40,000 sq ft facility. From this facility, they feel they will be better equipped to make their various yard signs and political signs. Having expanded on their space, they will be able to meet the demands of a wider range of customers.

"We have been creating political signs for many years," says Jeff Hartman, from Precision Signz. "We understand the important role these signs play in the success of any political campaign. Yard signs have a huge impact, because they are so visible and because they are placed in domestic areas, which are the areas voters actually reside in. Thanks to our brand new, upgraded and larger facility, we will be able to help politicians make an even bigger impact on their campaign."

Precision Signz has made it their mission to deliver the highest quality graphic impression services possible. Indeed, they guarantee to exceed their customers' expectations. They are committed to meeting any deadline promptly and have some of the highest levels of professionalism in the industry. Their printing facilities are truly state-of-the-art, and each member of their staff is trained in his field. This allows them to be dedicated to making sure each customer is fully satisfied and that each product they make is of the highest possible quality. Their motto is "Setting Trends and Turning Heads."

The company offers a range of different services. Most of their work is done in creating political signs and yard signs. However, they also create plastic signs, bandit signs, real estate signs, lawn signs, and magnetic car signs. Additionally, they work with corrugated plastic, banners, poly bags, cardboard, magnets and wire stands.

"Our customer database has been expanding massively over the past few months, which is why we have decided to make the move to our new facility," adds Jeff Hartman. "One of the reasons why we are so popular is that our customers can completely custom design the sign or banner that they want to have. This is the fastest way to create a sign, as well as the easiest. We have lots of templates on offer, with lots of different colors, so making the right sign should pose no difficulties."

The staff members at Precision Signz have also been very excited about the move. The sheer size of the new facility is allowing them to deliver far more high quality products in a much less time as well. It seems that people are always involved in some political campaign or another and while they expected to be overran in 2012, it seems to not have died down since. With the next presidential elections just one year away, it is likely that their workload will increase tremendously again very shortly. Now that they have moved to the new facility, they will be able to take on all requests for political candidates, without having to slow down on the work that they do for their other customers, including real estate professionals.
