Love2EncourageYou, a popular Christian blog, has published a review of the SuperiorMaker's pack of three Big Door Stops and Furniture Pads Set. The products are part of the blog's 2016 holiday gift guide and received a positive review from its founder, Rebecca Harmon.

Published under the title, "Superiormaker Door Stops and Furniture Pads Come in Handy," the review outlines the products' main features and benefits. The post is also designed to provide an honest, unbiased opinion, while helping shoppers, who may be seeking such products, make informed buying decisions. Additionally, the review uses pictures to showcase the products in use, giving viewers an idea of how they may be used in real life settings.

"The floors we tested the SuperiorMaker Door Stops on were shiny, waxed floors and the door stops stood up to the test perfectly, giving a flawless performance of durability, strength, and non-skid/non-slip ability," notes Rebecca Harmon in her review of the big door stops.

In reviewing the furniture pads set, the writer also had positive comments for the product, noting that, "The furniture pads made by SuperiorMaker are just as effective as the doorstops they produce. I was more than pleased with how easy they were to use and apply."

SuperiorMaker's Big Door Stops are made from heavy duty rubber and are optimally sized to fit standard door sizes with up to 1.9 inches ground clearance. The item also sports a stylish, modern design and is suitable for all floor surfaces, including tile, concrete, hardwood, and carpet. As for the furniture pads, which are designed to protect hardwood, tile and laminate floors from scratching, as well as the tops of tables, desks, shelves, and countertops, the product comes with 100 assorted pieces. They are made of Felt and come with adhesive backings, which allow them to be easily applied to the bottom of furniture items and appliances for easy gliding.

Love2EncourageYou's positive review mirrors those made by scores of shoppers on Amazon.com, where the products are sold. Both items have so far managed to maintain high ratings of 4.3 out of 5 stars or higher on the shopping portal, and have been praised for their design and durability.
