Daniel Wight and Dale Baumgart offer a brand new online business for customers. The Harvest Industries business offers products and information about healthy bodies, healthy minds and healthy lifestyles.

Brisbane QLD: Harvest Industries and founders, Daniel Wight and Dale Baumgart are pleased to announce the launch of their new online business. The founders know the secrets of living a long, happy and healthy life and want to share their knowledge with the rest of the world. The team states that they bring healing to the body from the inside out using the Harvest blends to achieve optimal health and energy. All products are free of sugar and gluten and are 100 percent natural. The taste is amazing, the duo says. The new website is user-friendly and features responsive and secure ordering capabilities.

In a recent interview, a company spokesperson explained, "At Harvest, we know how the effects that poor nutrition and a busy lifestyle can have on the body. Finding the time to prepare nutritious and delicious meals can sometimes be a mission in itself. Our natural protein powder blends are packed full of essential vitamins, minerals and amino acids, all derived from nutrient dense super foods from across the world.?

The founders Daniel Wight and Dale Baumgart are long-time friends who are both keen fitness and health participants. They passionately believe in the value of using products which are made from natural ingredients. The team collaborated with renowned nutritionists to come up with a range of recipes known both for taste and nutritional value. Extensive testing and reviewing were a part of the manufacturing process, with excellent flavour for each of the elements in the product line.

Customers from anywhere in the world can order the natural and delicious products and expect safe and expedited delivery. The company is proudly Australian, but uses ingredients which are from Australia, as well as from around the world. The ingredient list includes products which are carefully selected to avoid artificial colours, flavours, preservatives, sweeteners, chemicals or fillers.
