

DIY Pull Out Miracle Shelves Set To Launch On January 2nd

December 28, 2016

December 28, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Miracle Shelves, a business in Orlando, FL, is a new brand set to launch on January 2, 2017. At the time of this release, they have been featured on Houzz, HomeTalk, and Archilovers, and are currently working on a number of partnerships. According to the company, the launch is greatly anticipated because the products are do-it-yourself shelving kits.

RJ Shaw from Miracle Shelves says: "Miracle Shelves are pull out shelves crafted from first class Baltic Birch with baked-on lacquer for protection. All of our do-it-yourself kits come with industrial quality steel rails that simplify the bottom mounting of the custom pull-out to the existing cabinet. The full extension steel rails support up to 100 lbs of weight and take advantage of every inch of storage space. The melamine bottom makes it easy to keep them clean. We're so excited about the launch, and very happy to see that people are already interested."

The Miracle Shelves kits are designed for DIY-ers of all skill levels. They can customize each shelf to retrofit existing kitchen and bathroom storage spaces. The company has created a DIY installation video, which is now available on YouTube. This gives full instructions on how the system works, demonstrating exactly how to fit them.

The company also prides itself on offering an all-inclusive price to all their customers. This means that there are no unexpected charges. The kit includes everything required to assemble the pull out shelves. Once the company opens, any order will be shipped through FedEx within two to three weeks, depending on the level of demand.

The company has been working very hard on their product and they believe in its quality and efficacy. "Our returns and refund policy ensures that you're completely satisfied," adds RJ Shaw. "We guarantee our premium custom made slide out shelves to be free from manufacturing defects and each kit is inspected to ensure quality and ease of installation."

RJ Shaw, as can be seen on the Pullout Miracle Shelves LinkedIn page, is the co-founder of the company. His passion and dedication to creating something that people actually need shines through his bio. He also has a lot of experience in the world of DIY and shelving, which is how he managed to develop such a unique product.
