December 21, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Australian Flag Makers offers a variety of sizes and styles in advertising marquees. The advertising booth is suitable for indoor or outdoor use.

Brendale QLD: Australian Flag Makers is pleased to announce that they have added a custom printed marquee category to their line of advertising banners, flags and other eye-catching display items. The marquees are designed to capture the interest of crowd attending trade shows, exhibits and other events. The marquee can be fully customised and personalised from the top to the bottom. The attention-grabbing graphics as well as the colours are selected by the customer. The designs can include artwork, logos or lettering

The canopy, back walls and side walls of the printed marquees Brisbane location are designed to be long-lasting. They are constructed from 600D polyester with PVC coating. This construction and materials ensures that the booth is waterproof. In addition, it provides excellent shade protection when the marquee is used outdoors. The walls and canopy are also fire retardant. The printed inks have UV protection to give long lasting colour.

The features included in the custom printed designs include 600 D PVC coating on the reverse of the walls and canopy and UV protection ink for the printing, lettering and graphics. The printing is done using a heat transfer method. The heavy duty walls and UV-rays-resistant colours ensure that the product will do its part to improve the customer response to the message contained on the marquee and inside its frame.

A spokesperson for the company explained, "The aluminium frame is light weight, yet sturdy. It carries a 36 month guarantee for durability. The marquee frames come with a wheel trolley bag making transportation easy. The pop-up tent itself takes 60 seconds to open and set up. The total weight is only 23kg. If you already have the frame and want to apply a new canopy, that is easily done. A new canopy allows for a fresh look and updated graphics on the existing frame."
