

Indianapolis Awards Company Announces New Line Of Trophies For Employers

December 29, 2016

December 29, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Bardach Awards in West Indianapolis, Indiana, has announced that it is now providing plaques and trophies for commercial customers. The company states that their perpetual recognition plaques are perfect for employers who want to boost employee morale in the workplace.

Diane Bardach, President of the company says, "With our plaques and trophies Indianapolis employers have the perfect way to reward their employees and enhance their motivation. Our perpetual recognition plaques allow you to place employee contribution on record for everyone to see."

Bardach says that the plaques make it easy for employers to recognize an employee's hard work and put it out there for the entire office to see. The plaques are made of wood and contain metal plates where employee names can be engraved. Bardach says that the company can accommodate large corporations with multiple employees. The company offers plaque Indianapolis options that allow employers to choose to have one plaque per year that recognizes staff from different departments over the span of a year or smaller firms can add new employee names to the same plaque each year.

"We do our best to customize your plaques to meet the specific needs of your organization," says Bardach. "We offer a multitude of options that are perfect for every business, from the smallest firm to the largest corporation.

The company provides wood as well as acrylic Indianapolis plaques and trophies to recognize employee work and contribution. Bardach says that employee recognition has been shown to have a significantly positive effect on the workplace overall, boosting employee morale and offering them something to work towards.

Bardach Awards is a certified Women's Business Enterprise. The company is family owned and operated and has been in business for years, providing various trophies, awards, and plaques to businesses and individuals alike.
