This online event is designed to assist mothers from all walks of life, and from all age groups, with overcoming those overwhelming moments and managing them along with everything else they have going on in their busy lives.

?I always dreamed of being a wife and mother, but had no idea how challenging it would be! Motherhood is by far the most stressful and demanding job I?ve ever had,? states Dr. Eve Rosno, host of the Inspired Mom Summit and mother to 4 young children. ?I know the feelings of counting the minutes until bedtime, wanting to hide away for just a few minutes of peace and quiet, and feeling unsure if you can face the day when the alarm clock (or crying baby) calls you to duty each morning! My desire is that this summit will provide hope and encouragement, information and inspiration, connection and conviction!?
