Darlington-based DVSA qualified driving instructor, John Nicholson has launched an ADI driving course for the community and surrounding area. The teacher has his own car which students can use during the courses.

Darlington UK: John Nicholson Driving School and John Nicholson, instructor are pleased to announce the launch of a new driving school in Darlington and the surrounding areas in the United Kingdom. The instructor is a DVSA-qualified (ADI) driving teacher. The students taking the classes can use the vehicle which belongs to the instructor during the courses. The instructor earned a top grade in his test of instructional ability. He currently works alongside RED Driving School, the favourite of the nation.

The Darlington driving instructor spoke in a recent interview, "My goal is the same as yours, to see another pupil passing my course. It is satisfying for me to see a smiling pupil and another success for myself. This builds my reputation and means that the student and I are both winners. My students come from Darlington and all the surrounding areas. I make every effort to treat my students in a friendly, understanding and patient manner."

?I see myself as honest, trustworthy and reliable? he continues. ?All I ask is the same treatment from my students. Finding the right instructor is important. I work at the pace that best suits the individual. I am happy to chat with prospective students about getting lessons. I work with novices and experienced drivers as well. We offer a special discount for block bookings.?

The instructional vehicle is a BMW Mini Cooper Diesel with a Chilli Pack. The car features good all-round visibility and smooth feel, making it an ideal car for learners. The car is spacious and comfortable which provides the best driving experience to begin the driving lessons.

A qualified instructor will help students gain the confidence that is needed to navigate the roadways and streets around Darlington. Traffic patterns must be mastered in order to drive safely in all types of weather conditions.
