Modern Map Art offers city maps from throughout the world which are turned into works of art. Maps of favorite cities can be superimposed onto map posters, prints, wall art, cell phone cases and other items.

Modern Map Art is pleased to announce that they take city maps and turn them into works of art. The unique city prints look good as pillows, posters and cell phone cases. Cities in the United States, Europe, Australia and other areas are superimposed onto other products to become decorative articles. The result is a demonstration of pride in the city, remembrance of a special location, or as the ideal gift.

According to the founder of the company, speaking in a recent interview, ?Modern Map Art was founded in 2016 after I returned from my honeymoon where I was lucky enough to travel all over the world. I returned with an appreciation for the different cities I was in, such as Seoul and Sydney. I wanted to take what I had learned about the culture and colors and turn that into something special.?

The founder was passionate about maps, including atlases, vintage maps and street maps. The vintage maps help to demonstrate how urban sprawl develops over time. City grids and imagery were put together with the colors which represent that city in order to create posters and art that would look appealing in anyone's office or home. The current inventory includes familiar cities in the United States and will expand to cities throughout the world. The designs are elegant and modern with a touch of nostalgia to appeal to anyone with a connection to the city.

Customized pieces are available to remind customers of a favorite city, mountain or honeymoon location. Dozens of cities are already included in the inventory and there are plans to expand the selection in the future. Ski trails are featured in other maps, a suitable gift for any skier, whether downhill or cross-country. A single print can represent a favorite location, or prints can be grouped for a representation of a collection of travel bucket lists.
