January 03, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

MatrixAble offers a selection of websites where movies can be accessed for viewing. Twelve top quality sites are included which are useful for providing entertainment on computers or mobile devices.

MatrixAble is pleased to announce the release of their top selections for movie sites. The video selection sites are free of charge, and many of them do not require registration. The movies can be played on computers, laptops, smartphones and other devices. A full dozen sites are named for visitors to their websites to choose from. Watching movies is a source of entertainment for many people around the world. Being able to watch at a time and location that is convenient is a benefit offered by the Top 12 Site list.

Movies are available in many different genres. The type of movie which is selected from the listed sites can include comedy, adventure, science fiction, or romance. Other viewers prefer more unusual movies, such as cult offerings. There are historical and documentary type films which appeal to other viewers. Some available free movie streaming sites options appeal to the younger members of the household.

The websites which are offered as candidates for the top video entertainment locations include Prime Wire, Crackle, NetFlix, Hulu, Vumoo and Viewster. These websites, plus Popcorn Flix, YouTube Movies, Yify.tv, Wolow Tube, Snag Films and Movie Planet are listed and described in greater detail in the blog article. The connections to the sites are provided in order to make access more convenient.

One of the aspects of the ranking selections is the safety of information that is applied when a potential customer accesses the specific website. The information that is collected on the viewers' selections and its security from falling into unwanted hands is very important to viewers. While access to the sites is free, no one wants to risk sensitive information being available to those who would make nefarious use of their data. Some of the sites do not require registration before accessing the video files.
