Tempe, AZ. - Employment in Tempe, AZ is made more attainable through Express Employment Professionals of Tempe, AZ. By providing resources such as the ?Difference Workshop?, Express is getting creative when it comes to the workforce.

The workshop was created to promote that having different ideas is accepted in the workforce. Express Tempe believes that being true to oneself is highly important when looking for a job. The trained staffing consultants at Express will match clients with a job based on thir requirements and qualifications. Steve Puckett, human Resources expert, leads the training by discussing that creativity and diversity both promote a more open office environment.

?Being creative and innovative is very important when searching for a job because the right job for you may not just pop out at you from the start, you have to be open minded,? Express Tempe Branch Manager Desirae Noonan said.

The workshop took place on December 1st, 2016 in the Phoenix, AZ area. As some of the best employment in Tempe, AZ, Express Employment was a host of this workshop and encouraged all job seekers or anyone needing a little inspiration to come out and join. Registration began at 8 a.m. and doors opened for the conference at 8:30-11 a.m. The workshop was free, but they kindly accepted donations to the Children?s Miracle Network.

?Creativity and differences produce a much more diverse and interesting work environment,? Noonan said. ?The workshop definitely helped everyone have a better understanding of not only themselves, but of what is expected going forward in their respected careers.?
