January 10, 2017 -

Cardea Luxe Skin Care in Reno, Nevada, has recently released a new YouTube video that discusses how women and men alike can remove puffiness from under the eyes naturally. The skin care company is the manufacturer of Radiance Eye Renewal Cream, as well as other skin care products that are designed to fight the signs of aging.

"We wanted to help our customers to learn natural ways on how to reduce puffiness under your eyes," says Joseph Meli, a spokesperson for Cardea Luxe Skin Care. "While there could be many causes of this puffiness, there are just a few things that can relieve it."

Meli says that aside from natural aging, inherited facial features, allergies, and stress can also cause bags under the eyes. He says that the newly released video shows customers what they can do to combat those issues and eliminate puffy bags under eyes.

"Whatever is directly causing them, those bags are typically the result of fluid accumulating in the skin under the eyes," Meli says.

Meli states that the new video gives five tips to naturally rid the eyes of those bags. Cool water, cold spoons, and various other natural remedies are discussed as well as the Radiance Eye Renewal Cream offered by Cardea Luxe. The company states that their cream includes anti-inflammatory ingredients that instantly soothe and reduce swelling and puffiness. Ingredients include evening primrose oil and borage, which are both proven to be effective in combating puffiness.

Meli says that the video also explains the benefits of regularly using a skin care product that contains antioxidants. These products can help to stabilize molecules that can be harmful to the skin, and that directly lead to inflammation and swelling.

The Radiance Eye Renewal Cream offered by Cardea Luxe and discussed in the video contains witch hazel, vitamin C, vitamin E, and various other extracts and natural ingredients that Meli says are crucial for keeping skin healthy and reversing the signs of aging. He states that customers have been seeing instant improvements in the area under the eyes when using the cream. Those interested in seeing the new video on how to rid puffy bags under eyes can do so viewing the YouTube video or visiting the official website for Cardea Luxe Skin Care.
