May 12, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Your Jamaican Tour Guide, a tour company which is based out of Montego Bay, Jamaica, was featured in the Endless Vacation magazine's website and in their print edition. In the article, the tour company was praised for its unique food tasting tours in Jamaica.

"Our tours are a different kettle of fish," says Alrick Allen, the owner of Your Jamaican Tour Guide. "We strive to offer the best food tasting tours in this island, and we try to offer our customers a taste of Jamaica in every delicious dish."

Your Jamaican Tour Guide takes guests to hidden food spots around the area to offer them a taste of the authentic flavors of the island. Allen states that the tour company strives to offer a look at the real Jamaica with all the dishes that this entails.

"Fresh fish, curry goat, Jamaican beef patties, mangos, brown stew chicken, pumpkin soup, plantain chips, jerk chicken and Red Stripe..." says Allen. "Those types of food are everyday staples for Jamaicans, and it is what we want our customers to experience in the Jamaica food tasting tour. It's the real Jamaica."

Alrick Allen says that he tries to show his customers the places that they likely would not find on their own and places that offer something that other tours do not, although he states that there are always foods on the menu that are a bit less than authentic, such as french fries and milkshakes. He says that all of the tour's customers thoroughly enjoy themselves and the experience.

The tour covers areas like a fisherman's beach where locals offer fresh fish, and tour goers can enjoy watching free divers searching for crab. Restaurants that do not typically take credit cards, those that are more authentic and more in keeping with the island's history, are toured, as well as family restaurants that offer a more American feel to their menus.

"You can see the thrill and excitement on their faces," Allen continues. "Just visit us on Facebook and have a look at some of our pictures. The enjoyment is definitely there."
