Gimmie Reviews is a blog that features products for the freebie hunters out there. Wendy Larson is the head of the successful blog. She founded the Gimmie Reviews to save money and to share it with all the moms and even dads with the same interests with her. ?Helping others save money and get free stuff is so personally satisfying. It feels like I was born to do this. I started this blog because I was so tired of misleading freebies that so many of the ?Top? freebie sites post. They?re the kind you have to complete offers to get a free tic tac (lol), and you still don?t get anything free after signing your life away. And inevitably you?ll forget to cancel the trial memberships you just got to get your free tic tac, so you actually wind up spending money. Who wants to do that?!? as stated from her About Us page.

The blog guides shoppers where to go to grab coupons and enjoy shopping at a minimal cost. This particular blog presents ideas about the best gifts such as top toys, best stocking stuffers, gifts for men, women, children and pets. It has more than 29 million social reach worldwide and have partnered with over 100 associate blogs on giveaways to increase its reach to over 1.5 billion per week.

On this Holiday Gift Guide, Jenaluca Stainless Steel Herb Scissors is one of the many favourite gift ideas that the blog has presented.
