Lovetica Beauty offers an all natural and effective lip balm to keep the lips moisturized throughout the cold season. The ultimate protective lip balms are manufactured from hemp oil.

Toronto CA: Lovetica Beauty is pleased to announce the release of all-natural hemp-oil lip balms. The unique line of all-natural products is comprised of a nutrient packed lip balm which serves as a protector against chapped lips as well as harmful radicals. The hemp oil-based lip balm line is particularly beneficial since it is packed with omega fatty and linoleic acids, nutrients that are essential for cellular health. Hemp is the only plant oil that contains vitamin D, which is a key ingredient for a flawless skin.

Hemp-oil has been proven to deliver ultimate moisture and a range of benefits such as essential amino acids, vitamins E & D, omega-3 and omega 6 fatty acids. These essential nutrients penetrate deep into the skin; providing a soft and moist effect which is the key to keeping lips healthy and protected.

A spokesperson for the company explained, "All-natural lip balms are better for you. Non-natural lip balms on the market are made with petroleum-based synthetic oils that are suspected carcinogens and are therefore harmful to your body. Since our lips are highly absorbent, it is essential that you protect them with all-natural ingredients that are not harmful and toxic.?

Lovetica's all-natural lip balms come in four different flavours including pure hemp-oil, peppermint, lemon and melon. They are now available in a gift-pack so that customers have the opportunity to try all four for a limited-time offer. The lip balms are made from highest quality ingredients including hemp-oil, beeswax, olive oil, apricot fruit extract, olive and almond oil. They are all non-toxic, paraben and chemical free and are never tested on animals.

The Lovetica family believes in non-toxic, high-quality, all-natural skin care designed for modern men and women. The company understands the everyday busy lifestyles of urban people. That is why they have created a unique line of products that are aimed to combat the every-day effects of pollution and stress. Living in large cities around the world, takes a toll on the skin. Pollution and traffic-related particles are associated with skin aging, wrinkle formation and pigment spot formation. Lovetica products aim to connect the modern urban citizens back to nature.
