

Sean K. Quigley Attends NCPE Tax Update

January 26, 2017

January 26, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Pensacola, Fla. - Sean K. Quigley, Certified Public Accountant in Pensacola, recently attended the Annual Individual Income Tax Update. Lead by Jerry Riles and Wayne Hebert from the National Center for Professional Education, the workshop lasted two days and focused on executing current-year tax changes and revisiting compliance issues that are relevant to experienced tax professionals.

"The program did a great job of advising us about new requirements and alerting us to areas where new and renewed IRS scrutiny can affect our individual and business clients," Quigley said.

Sean K. Quigley joined Brown Thornton Pacenta in 2005 and was promoted to partner in 2009. He has over 20 years of experience in the field with clients across many industries. He acts as an advisor to his clients in accounting, tax, and other business related matters. Additionally, Sean K. Quigley's accounting services in Pensacola include General Accounting, Tax Services, and Financial Planning consultation.

Quigley's work is focused on areas of individual and business tax and accounting. He tailors work based upon each client's need and their own strengths and weaknesses. Quigley provides advice clients can use to further improve their individual and business financial performance in the accounting, record keeping and other business matters.
