June 16, 2015 -
RezExpert, a leading cloud based reservation system from DigitalRez, was recently updated to further streamline the making of reservations for resort operators. The April 2015, update included the implementation of right-click functionality within the reservation grid. This allows operators to quickly access additional features of the grid for a specific reservation by using the right-click button on the mouse or trackpad.

?With just one click resort operators can now access the most important functions of reservation management,? stated Kevin Hall Managing Director of the DigitalRez Group of Companies. ?Adding Right Click functionality to the RezExpert advanced reservation grid received many plaudits from resort managers,? he continued.

Joe and Sherry Chapman, owners of Konkolville Motel in Idaho, USA were quoted as saying ?We love the new changes that were made last night. Especially the pencil-in changes and the right click feature. Amazing.?

RezExpert is a cloud based reservation and property management system hosted in the Amazon cloud environment. Thom Gibb, Chairman of the Board for the DigitalRez Group of Companies said ?changing our business model fulfilled a need in the market place for a more streamlined cost effective reservation system. Offering short term monthly contracts, simple pay-as-you-go payment plans and constant enhancements, like the April 2015 update continues to prove a winning combination. Resorts utilizing RezExpert can look forward to many more updates,? he stated.
