June 04, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

San Diego, CA, June 4, 2015 - Thinker Collection, offering designs on products highlighting innovations in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM), has launched sales of its 'Sheldon' shirts through www.CBSStore.com.

Nine Thinker Collection t-shirts have been worn by Jim Parsons starring as 'Dr. Sheldon Cooper' in dozens of episodes of, and TV ad promos for, 'The Big Bang Theory' airing on CBS since 2009, featuring design topics from atmospheric carbon, motherboards and carbon nanotubes to genomics, imaging and quantum mechanics and more.

Thinker Collection offers an array of STEM designs on clothing for men, women and children, and a series of STEM-themed coloring books for children on geometry, algorithms, nanotechnology and physics. Hundreds of Thinker Collection poster art pieces sell through www.Art.com and www.AllPosters.com. And Thinker Collection designs are selling on mobile covers, bags, scarves, apparel, home textiles, tumblers and more at www.Redbubble.com. The brand has gifted the Academy Awards® by request and was voted a celebrity event 'favorite,' has been invited to all major entertainment awards show gift suites and has been requested repeatedly for media product placements.

"We're very pleased to have been invited by Delivery Agent, Inc., on behalf of CBS, to sell our very popular "Sheldon" T-shirts through their Web store and we welcome them as a reseller partner," said Lisa C. Clark, MBA, Founder/CEO of parent company Textiles for Thinkers, LLC. The company first launched as the Thinker Clothing brand, visited online by guests in 180 countries and selling to customers directly on five continents, and has expanded as Thinker Collection offering products across consumer and consumer tech categories, and positioned for further licensing.
