Miami Florist Announces Huge Inventory Of Valentine Roses

February 11, 2017

February 11, 2017 -
Spring In The Air, an online florist based in Miami, Florida, recently announced that they have an abundance of roses ready to ship for Valentine's Day. The florist states that they have Valentine roses in an array of arrangements and urge those who need them by February 14 to order as soon as possible to ensure on-time delivery.

"Valentine's Day is our busiest time of the year," states Sergio Cadena, a spokesperson for the florist. "We always urge our customers to order by February 9 to ensure that their flowers get delivered to their special someone on the appropriate day."

Cadena states that while they have a large number of roses available, many orders have already begun to come in and says that those who want fresh roses delivered should order ahead of time. Rose delivery is offered by the company throughout the year, so Cadena says that they always have flowers ready to deliver. He also states that since Valentine's Day is such a huge day for deliveries, those ordering should do so quickly to ensure that delivery drivers have their flowers onboard on the day that they want them to be received.

"We make it easy for people to send flowers," Cadena states. "You just let us know what you want and when you want it delivered, and we take care of it."

The company offers Valentines roses in a number of colors, and Cadena says that while red is often the most popular color for the holiday in February, they also do white, pink, and various other colors for delivery on that day. He says that those interested in learning more should visit the company online to get a look at the variety of roses that they offer and to choose the arrangement that they want to send.

Spring In The Air offers large blooming roses with long stems for every day of the year, including special holidays. The company states that customers can count on them to deliver fresh, beautiful roses any day of the year for all special occasions.
