February 11, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Evermore Gown Care Specialists, occupying a retail space in JGM Properties' Caribou Corner mini-mall, offers gown preservation, restoration, and alteration.

Evermore offers brides a wide range of gown care services, including: wedding gown preservation, heirloom and vintage gown restoration, gown alterations, and wedding day gown prep and are one of the only wedding gown cleaners in the upper-Midwest that cares exclusively for wedding gowns.

"With proper care, your gown will look as beautiful on your 50th anniversary as it did on your wedding day. Wedding gowns are delicate. We treat every bride's gown like it's our own," says assistant manager Tammy Rosenlund.

Unlike most dry-cleaners, Evermore Gown Care meets with customers before cleaning to personally inspect the gown, checking for spots, age, wear areas, loose buttons or beads, open seams, tears, and damaged zippers.

"Evermore can help customers with all their gown needs, from pre-wedding care and alterations to the perfect cleaning and preservation of your gown. Their customers preserved gown is guaranteed not to yellow, discolor or develop oxidized stains," says Rosenlund.

They specialize in restoring antique gowns and vintage bridal gowns to the true color without damage to delicate fabrics or dyes, removing stains and discoloration that ordinary dry cleaners cannot.

"A talented dressmaker can reshape almost any gown to your size. You can also update a gown by changing the neckline or the shape of the skirt or even removing sleeves. Some brides add lace or beading, but brides more often choose to wear a family gown because they like the simplicity of the cut and the beauty of the fabric," says Rosenlund.

When customers arrange to have their gown cleaned and preserved at Evermore, they will receive a $50 gift certificate towards their wedding day gown pressing. That's up to half-price on a typically $100 service. Customers receive their credit when they return the gown for preservation after their wedding.
