Debby McKinney has announced that she is now an independent representative for Zurvita Zeal For Life. McKinney recently stated that she is now working with Zurvita Zeal For Life in order to help consumers lead a healthier and more satisfying lifestyle.

"It's a wonderful company," McKinney says. "From the convenience to the all in one formula, you can really get back to a healthier lifestyle. I am proud to be part of something that is going to benefit so many people."

McKinney states that the all in one formula takes the questions and hassle out of having a healthier life. The company's unique formulas combine necessary antioxidants as well as vitamins and minerals from fruits and vegetables and exotic botanical ingredients from all over the world in a single product. The company's original product was launched in 2011 and meets gluten free as well as kosher and vegan certification standards.

"Consistency is important when you're talking about nutrition," McKinney says. "The single serving bottles make it easy for you to get the nourishment you need. You can just grab your daily dose and go, so even if you're typically too busy for a healthy lifestyle, this will work for you."

McKinney states that the single serving bottles make it simple to consume the necessary vitamins and nutrients to stay healthy and says that the servings do not taste like typical vitamin drinks. Zeal is available in four flavors including grape, kiwi watermelon, tropic dream, and wild berry. McKinney says that there is a flavor for everyone, which makes it easier for those striving for a healthier lifestyle to get the nutrients that they need on a daily basis.

Zeal is clinically proven to provide results. McKinney says that clinical trial results were recently completed from an independent third party research firm to confirm the positive benefits of the supplement to improve mood and lower fatigue and anxiety. The recent study was conducted on healthy people, not those wishing to improve their mood or general health. Those interested in learning more about the supplement and its benefit can visit the company on their official website at <https://www.zurvita.com/guide/en/us/products/wellness>.
