February 08, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Phoenix-based Elite Private Investigation offers discrete, specialized and efficient facilitation for clients. The company is a one-stop shop for all investigation needs.

Phoenix AZ: Elite Private Investigation and Liam Hawley are pleased to announce that the Phoenix private investigators holds all necessary licenses and certification to serve clients in a confidential and specialized manner. A full range of services are available to clients. The team of investigators has a wide range of qualifications. Individual agents specialize in different fields so that the investigators who are best experienced in the needs of a particular client will be assigned to take care of the case.

According to a company spokesperson, "We will produce desirable results and will keep you updated as much as you would like. If you want to be informed at every step, or if you would prefer to receive a report when the job is completed, we can accommodate your preferences. We are fast and accurate and always hold discretion at the highest level."

When there is an event or need which requires seeking the professional help of a private investigation firm, it can cause stress and worry to the client. The professionals at Elite understand these concerns and provide compassion, communication and simplicity to resolve the difficulties which are faced. The utmost care is provided to each individual case.

The confidential, efficient and experienced team works for the client's benefit. The services include domestic problems such as infidelity, divorce, person location, surveillance and GPS tracking. Civil cases such as missing persons, wrongful death and custody issues, as well as process service are also handled efficiently. The agency also handles cases of criminal categories and corporate categories.

Criminal investigations include crime scene review, theft, anti-stalking and fraud. The professionals can provide suggestions for counter measures, cyber forensics and internet sweeps. For corporate clients, the agency professionals will conduct pre-employment interviews, skip tracing, background checks and workman's comp fraud. The agency is also able to offer consulting services to clients.
