The Yamane Marketing Group, based in Honolulu, HI, has announced that they are now offering press release services to help local businesses across Honolulu. More details about this new service are available on their website at <http://YamaneMarketingGroup.com>. The company's main purpose for this service is to create an online presence for local businesses, which is aimed at improving the local economy.

Dan Yamane, founder of The Yamane Marketing Group, says; "We set ourselves apart by working almost exclusively with small, local businesses. Supporting our local economy is something that we take very seriously, because we understand the cumulative beneficial effect of doing so. We now offer press release services to local businesses, so that they they are able receive more exposure in the media, thereby boosting their business both locally and further afield."

There are many reasons why supporting the local economy is beneficial to people. First of all it strengthens the economy of one's community, which will ultimately benefit all of the residents. Furthermore, it supports the community as a whole and keeps the unique and relevant to the people who live in it. By supporting the local economy, companies like The Yamane Marketing Group also help to create more good jobs, improve overall service, encourage local prosperity, and ensure taxes are put to good use.

The Yamane Marketing Group is quickly becoming one of the most popular marketing agencies around. One customer says on their website: "Creativity and professionalism throughout the process, Yamane Marketing Group was a pleasure to work with. They exceeded my expectations." Another local customer stated: "I'm happy and delighted with the result, communication was excellent, and nothing was too much trouble."

Now that the company has added a press release service to their overall offerings, they aim to be able to have an even bigger positive impact on the community as a whole. They have extensive networks with both local and national press and media outlets, where people will be able to have their voice heard, and their business advertised. In so doing, they greatly increase the exposure their clients receive across the board. The potential impact of this on the local economy is immeasurable.
