February 16, 2017

February 16, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

J&M Contractors, a roofing contractor firm in Lake Worth, FL, has announced that they have started to offer free roof inspections, including an in depth analysis of the condition of a roof. The company is known for its services for emergency repair of roof leaks, but they are keen to help people avoid leaks in the first place. They encourage everyone to contact them for the free inspection.

Miguel Espinoza from J&M Contractors says: "With South Florida being in the hurricane target zone, many insurance companies have opted not to provide wind storm coverage for roofs that were not installed within their standards. If your roof is older than 10 years, it is crucial that you have it inspected by our experts. If your roof is in need of repair or replacement, it is only a matter of time before your insurance carrier will force you to replace the roof or raise your premiums through the roof."

The company is committed to offering its clients the best possible emergency roof leak repair service, with a 100% satisfaction guarantee. They want to make sure that people have a pleasant experience when working with the company, as they feel that customers who have a roof leak are already dealing with enough stress. These are values that shine through in everything that they do, and many of their clients have commented on it.

"It was a pleasure having J&M Contractors Roofing Division do our Re-Roof after interviewing multiple roofing contractors," says Jason J. on the company's website. "I immediately felt at ease with J&M, their product knowledge and professionalism was top notch. The project implementation was proportionately as flawless, the job was constantly supervised and any questions or concerns I had were immediately put to rest. I have not hesitated to recommend their services to a handful of friends and family members and will continue to do so for years to come."

People are encouraged to contact the company as soon as possible through their website at <http://www.roofpbc.com/contact-us/> to get a free roof inspection, or if they have an emergency that needs to be checked.
