To celebrate this occasion, MM Tax & Financial are offering their tax preparation service for just $69 for a limited time only. This offer includes full tax preparation according to updated and current tax codes, a review of all the possible deductions that clients might be missing, and a tax analysis from the company's professional and knowledgeable team of experts. Martin L. Teitel from MM Tax & Financial says: "MM Tax & Financial was created with the goal of assisting clients in every aspect of their financial lives. Understanding tax strategies and managing your tax bill should be part of any sound financial approach. We want to work with you to ensure that you make informed, educated decisions that will best suit your current needs and enable you to achieve your long-term financial goals."

Dimensional Financial Services has been helping people with financial transitions for nearly three decades. These transitions include such things as starting a family or marriage, and also divorce and asset division, retirement planning including income planning, long term care planning, and transitioning wealth at death. The company, as can be seen on their website at <http://dimensionalfinancialservices.com/> is a fully independent company. This is critical when it comes to making important financial decisions.

With the two companies joining hands to offer tax preparation and review services, people can essentially have two professionals working on their behalf to give them the best possible advice. The limited time offer of paying just $69 for this service is being snapped up by people, who are used to paying in excess of hundreds of dollars for a service that has far less features. Teitel adds: "MM Tax & Financial offers a "hands on" approach to tax planning. In addition to your tax preparation, a tax review will be offered. This review is designed to help educate you on ways to save money in taxes, as well as offer possible retirement strategies."

Securities and advisory services offered through Packerland Brokerage Services, Inc., an unaffiliated entity.

Member FINRA & SIPC.
