

Eve Hansen Beauty Releases Their Highly Regarded 2oz Vitamin C Serum On Amazon

June 10, 2015

June 10, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Rose Hansen, spokesperson for the company Eve Hansen Beauty, has announced that their 2oz vitamin C serum is available on Amazon. She stated that their big 2oz bottle has the same premium ingredients, so customers are able to get the same value, but more of it, in one bottle.

The company's 2oz Vitamin C Serum - Facelift in a Bottle contains 72% of certified organic ingredients and is 100% vegan. The product doesn't contain any parabens, alcohol and fragrances, and is made in the USA. Rose stated that a notable feature of their vitamin C serum is that the results happen very fast, as it is proven to stimulate collagen production. She added that after applying the serum, customers will feel the skin tighten, while still maintaining that soft feeling. She stated that customers will also note the fading of discolorations within a month from using the product. The company made the following statement,

"A famous TV Doctor said in his show that with Vitamin C Serum you can drop a decade from your face without going under a knife. It's safer, cheaper and easier than a facelift or chemical peel. Probably the most important functions of vitamin C are its role in producing collagen, a protein that provides the skin its elasticity. Boosting your skin's vitamin C level can help to combat wrinkle formation by stimulating collagen production."

The facial serum, which can be found on the Eve Hansen storefront at Amazon.com, is designed to be absorbed quickly into the skin and not leave any oily residue. Rose stated that the vitamin C serum is suitable for all skin types, including dry, oily, damaged, sensitive, and breakout and acne prone skin. She added that customers will also notice that their wrinkles and fine lines will begin to slowly reduce overtime, which is due to the stimulation of collagen production. In addition, the serum may help fade age spots, reduce dark spots, as well as acne scars. One customer wrote the following review:

"Was surprised at how large the bottle is (much bigger than usual serum/vitamin bottles), a great value for its price. Easy to smooth on face and dries well without getting sticky. Have already seen results after only a few days. Very good product! Also great customer service, considerate and sincerely interested in customer feedback. Will buy again from them"

Eve Hansen Beauty has other products for sale on Amazon, which include 4oz Tea Tree Oil - Pharmaceutical Grade, Organic Argan Oil, Hyaluronic Acid and Sweet Almond Oil. Their vitamin C serum contains the following premium ingredients: Vitamin C (20%), Hyaluronic Acid (11%), Amino Blend, Ferulic Acid and Vitamin E. If interested parties would like to get more information on their Vitamin C Serum - Facelift in a Bottle, or any of the other products sold by the company, they are encouraged to visit their storefront at Amazon.com. Those interested in the product will also be able to read through many of the reviews that have been written by current customers.
