Oceanside-based vehicle tune and lube facility offers quality repairs at affordable prices. Since 2012, the professionals have been providing outstanding service to area residents.

Oceanside CA: All Tune & Lube and Randall Jemiola are pleased to announce that the neighborhood facility has been servicing vehicles in the community since 2012. The highly trained automotive professionals associated with ATL can perform all types of jobs ranging from basic oil changes to the most complicated engine repair and transmission work. The firm is a one stop total car care center. The facility is owned and operated by Randy Jemiola.

Speaking in an interview recently, Randy Jemiola explained, "We offer a full line of Fleet Maintenance Service programs Customized to your unique needs. All Tune and Lube will work with you to keep your maintenance costs down, while keeping your vehicles safe and dependable on the road. At All Tune and Lube our Certified Technicians offer a thorough inspection of mechanical and safety items to ensure that your vehicles are operating at maximum performance."

The fleet maintenance program offered by the company has a number of additional features. It offers company competitive discount pricing with centralized billing and computerized states. Either priority or while-you-wait service is available. There are employee repair discounts and national fleet references. ATL offers repair warranties and service reminders. There are also preventative maintenance inspections to forestall issues with vehicles.

The website offers a number of additional features for those considering a repair facility. There are coupons to provide price discounts for some of the common service needs. There are car care tips to help vehicle owners maintain their vehicles in top condition and reduce the dependence upon repair technicians.

Wait times to complete required maintenance can be reduced by setting up an appointment. This allows the work to be scheduled at a time convenient for the vehicle owner. For major jobs, the company offers easy financing, even for those who have poor or no credit history.
