February 27, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Portland-based tree removal firm offers a stellar reputation in the industry. They provide services related to tree removal as well as landscape management and more.

Forest Grove OR: Eduardo's Tree Service LLC and Eduardo Tellez are pleased to announce that their tree removal Portland firm employs professionals who have the knowledge and experience to earn top marks and reviews on Angies List for more than seven years. The team offers a range of tree care and removal services to Portland, Oregon and the surrounding area. Safe removal of trees is a task that should be left to professionals, particularly when the tree is near houses, vehicles or power lines.

The company is fully insured, licensed and bonded as part of the Forest Grove business community. When emergency action is required, the team at ETS responds quickly, 24 hours per day. The prices are very competitive, and the necessary actions to remove the tree can be done quickly. Waiting to take care of a tree that is damaged or diseased can be a risk for the structure, people and property.

In a recent interview, Eduardo Tellez explained, "We assure each of our customers of our quality workmanship and unsurpassed service. We are proud of our well-deserved reputation for competitive pricing and excellent service. We bring our skills to benefit those customers who prefer to use the services of a professional. Our team of professionals can handle any job, large or small."

The company provides free estimates and references upon request. In addition to tree removal, the team of experts performs tree services and landscape management, as well as lot clearing and other services. The website provides information about many of the other services which can be performed by the professionals at Eduardo's Tree Service. The team offers tips and suggestions based on experience, integrity and honesty. Each project is done on time and on budget.

The company operates with four basic principles: free estimates, specialized equipment, guaranteed satisfaction and extensive experience at affordable prices.
