March 06, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Center For Medical Aesthetics in Providence, Rhode Island, has announced the launch of their new official website www.CenterforMedicalAestheticsRI.com in Providence. The practice which provides cool sculpting in Providence RI is a proud member of Southern New England Healthcare for Women, which is a physician-led medical group.

The Center for Medical Aesthetics was founded when a group of Rhode Island's top OB-GYN physicians and specialists came together to form the practice. Doctors and specialists include: Dr. Lisa Boyle, Dr. Fred Brosco, Dr. A. Michael Coppa, Dr. Laina Crowthers, Dr. Beata Dizoglo, Dr. Michelle Gange, Dr. Karen Mcgoldrick, Dr. Frank Pensa, Dr. Martha Pizzarello, Dr. Donald Ramos, Dr. Caitlin Saint-Aubin, Dr. Jane Sharp, and Medical Aesthetician/CoolSculpting specialist Jo-Ellen Tiberi.

Jo-Ellen Tiberi says, "How do you make that last bit of belly fat or the most stubborn love handles disappear when dieting and exercise just aren't doing it? There is a way that truly works, permanently. You can lose those excess bulges without going under the knife, anesthesia, needles, suction hoses, or lasers. It's a very gentle, effective non-surgical fat-reduction treatment. It's very cool; literally. It's called cool sculpting. The CoolSculpting fat freezing procedure is the only FDA-cleared treatment that uses controlled cooling to eliminate fat cells. The results are proven, noticeable, and lasting. You will look great from every angle.?

Tiberi goes on to say, "Summer bodies are made in the spring. Is your body ready for spring break? If the answer is no, then to stop in today or call for your free consultation. Your body will thank you. When you make the decision to have CoolSculpting and permanently remove unwanted fat, it?s a big deal. We realize that and your desire for fat loss usually comes with a sense of urgency. You want it to happen immediately. Center for Medical Aesthetics accommodates their client?s busy lifestyle and professional?s on-the-go with extended hours and weekend availability."

The practice says that the cool sculpting fat-freezing procedure is the only FDA-cleared, fat-reduction treatment that does not require surgery but instead uses controlled cooling to eliminate stubborn fat that resists all efforts through diet and exercise. Tiberi states that patients will look great from every angle.

Center for Medical Aesthetics states that their new website is now available for interested clients to gain more information about CoolSculpting. Tiberi says that the website offers information regarding a number of procedures, treatments areas, as well as before and after pictures to help people have a better idea of what we offer to help them with their specific body issues. Those interested can view the practice website online to make an appointment for a complimentary consultation, as well as read their patient testimonial reviews on social media sites. You can also interact with others who have visited the practice for CoolSculpting on their Facebook page for more information. Center For Medical Aesthetics urges those who are ready to make a major body change to contact them to schedule an initial consultation.
