

Shipping Container World Now Offers Freight Shipping Containers Nationwide

February 28, 2017

February 28, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Hickory Hills-based shipping container firm offers a range of shipping containers available to buy, rent-to-own or lease. The company has the largest inventory of new and used containers available.

Hickory Hills IL: Shipping Container World (shippingcontainer.world) and Tom Johnson are pleased to announce that their inventory of shipping containers is available nationwide. The company began with a domain name and went on to create an efficient marketplace for shipping containers. Customers were helped to learn about containers for shipping and to be able to purchase them online. The firm later expanded in order to offer rent-to-own containers. The cost of the products were pushed down to wholesale levels.

According to a company spokesperson, "You will love our direct checkout, which utilizes the most up-to-date digital shopping cart technology. We provide support staff around the clock to answer questions and provide assistance. Our attitude and focus on service has allowed us to grow into the world's largest shipping container marketplace. The website connects you to local, national and even international deals. The prices are the lowest possible and delivery terms are the best around."

The goal of the company has been to build a transparent marketplace which streamlines and improves the performance of the entire industry. Before the advent of the website, the industry was antiquated and inefficient. Price comparisons could be done by manually requesting quotes from as many sellers as could be found. The quotes were obtained by email, faxes or phone calls. Purchasing containers could require hours or days, and the sellers might be less than reputable.

The marketplace experience created by Shipped.com is totally new and different. Purchasing a container is faster, easier, more secure and less expensive than ever before. Containers are sold across six continents: North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia and Oceania. The website features a list of all cities where containers are sold. In many of the locations, delivery can be arranged. In each of the locations, a listing of container sizes is provided.

For more information, visit the web pages at <http://shippingcontainer.world/>.

###

For more information about Shipping Container World, contact the company here: Shipping Container World Tom Johnston (917) 367-2306 info@shippingcontainer.world 1026 Tator Patch Road, Hickory Hills IL 60457

Shipping Container World

Website: <http://shippingcontainer.world/>

Email: info@shippingcontainer.world

Phone: (917) 367-2306

Powered by PressAdvantage.com