Centre of Excellence offers entrepreneurs virtual office space for those who want to maintain a Hong Kong office address. The use of a virtual office is a more affordable option than a land-based presence.

Hong Kong: Centre of Excellence and Iris Shek are pleased to announce that they offer virtual services to those who want a Hong Kong presence and address. Hong Kong is a premier location to conduct business, yet is one of the most costly locations around the world. Thanks to today's internet and various communication tools, the advantages of a Hong Kong location are available for entrepreneurs. The solutions presented by COE range from a corporate address to mailing to telephone services.

Centre of Excellence is a leading business centre and virtual office service provider based in Hong Kong. They specialize in providing high quality serviced offices, virtual offices, meeting rooms and training venues. In addition, different solutions which cater to independent professionals who want total back-office support, business travellers who visit Hong Kong and need full office support and sales professionals who need a supportive environment to create sales are available. The firm provides business registration assistance, as well as presentation rooms for clients. Further services can be developed through consultation with the team at CoE.

A spokesperson for CoE explained, "We were founded in 2008 by a group of entrepreneurs who have lived through the pain of being a startup. They were frequent travellers to a new city. We have first-hand knowledge and experience of what it requires to empower independent professionals, business executives and sales professionals to focus on your business and take away the distraction of seeking office supports."

"We operate on a single unique principle," he continues. "Your business situation is unique. We listen and understand first, then we prepare a solution tailor-made to you. We offer a wide range of solutions. Solutions may involve physical space, or other professionals so you are not alone. Each customer is surrounded by a community of like-minded independent professionals, sales professionals and business travellers."
