ROOST? Real Estate in Mooresville, North Carolina has announced a number of Lake Norman real estate listings. The real estate agency states that they have years of experience in helping buyers and sellers and says that they currently have many listings in the Lake Norman region.

"This is a beautiful area," says John Mikesh, owner and sales manager of ROOST? Real Estate. "It's very close to Charlotte and offers a number of amenities and local attractions."

Mikesh states that his team has the experience and skills necessary to help them identify local market trends and key selling points for homes. He states that the team can assist homeowners who are looking to sell by putting together a comprehensive marketing plan and other aspects that allow them to accurately price homes and ensure that their clients get the most for their properties. For buyers, the Mooresville realtors help to find the home that fits the client's budget as well as space and location needs.

"We work with each client on an individual basis to ensure that they find the home that they have always dreamed of owning," says Mikesh.

The realtor states that the local attractions make properties in this area very desirable. Attractions include small town charm despite being in proximity to the second largest city in the Southeast. The town offers a university as well as golfing and nightlife.

The Lake Norman realtors say that they have a listing in the area to meet nearly every need. Mikesh states that Lake Norman offers more than 150 miles of coastline and a variety of lakefront homes. Amenities in the area include fishing, boating, jet and water skiing for those who like the water, and various land activities such as hiking and picnicking for those who prefer dry land. Homes in the area come in a variety of price points, and Mikesh states that he and his team can help potential buyers to find the perfect home in the perfect location and at a price that can easily be afforded. Interested prospective homeowners can visit the real estate agency online to get a comprehensive list of the properties that are currently available.
