Las Vegas NV: HalfPriceShows.com and Richard Reed, Owner are pleased to announce the launch of their new business and website, based in Las Vegas, Nevada. The business offers the lowest price tickets on Las Vegas shows, tours and events. The tickets are offered at fifty percent discounts. The significant Las Vegas discounts are offered on a range of entertainment and activity events of the sort that visitors to the resort destination enjoy attending. The tickets can be purchased in advance, in order to better plan a visit to the city.

According to owner, Richard Reed, "We provide ideas for entertainment tickets for today's events, or for events as far off in the future as sixty days. These tickets are for good seats and for the best shows and other events in the area. I'm a long-time Las Vegas resident, of nearly five decades, so I know the people and events that are most in demand, and how to share these top events with locals or visitors in the area."

The website is set up to be easy to use. Finding and purchasing the tickets for an event requires only a couple minutes. In addition to attractions, tours and shows, there are discounts for foods. More than seventy different tickets and discounts are available on the website. No printer is required to make arrangements for the discounted price. The seat selection is the same as if the retail price was paid.

A new feature on the website is the blog. The blog provides accurate and time-sensitive information about Las Vegas entertainment, as well as that about other cities in real time. The blog will be active within a few weeks. 5The new website was developed by the parent company, Insider Viewpoint of Las Vegas, a company that has been operating in Las Vegas for two dozen years.
