Dr. Miinala Marketing, a company providing solutions to help maximize marketing potential, has recently made available their new snapshot report for dress shops. This report discusses the current status of a particular dress shop in terms of its online reputation. It can serve as the basis for efforts to increase online presence and visibility. If there are any problems with the online reputation of the business or its owner, they can be properly addressed. The result is more traffic to their website, more leads, more customers, and increased revenue. More details are available on Dr. Miinala's Facebook business page.

Dr. Miinala herself says: "As part of my marketing service and consultancy, I offer people advice that is suitable specifically for their unique type of business. The snapshot report that we are offering for free is for dress shops. I wholly recommend dress shop owners to get this report to see how they are faring online and then we can discuss how their online reputation can be improved."

As shown on Dr. Miinala Marketing's LinkedIn business page, her original focus was on law firms. However, she has expanded this considerably, offering advice and guidance to a variety of different industries. She says: "We aim to provide useful and powerful tools and solutions that can help online and offline marketers reach out to more clients, market their products and services and boost website traffic. We have maintained a good reputation in providing excellent and high-quality services to our clients for years."

Dr. Miinala Marketing also offers various reputation management packages, which are suitable for businesses in a variety of industries. Leading by example, the company's own reputation is very good, which has been achieved by offering the highest possible quality service, and also through strong digital marketing processes.

The company currently offers business owners free reports that they can use in order to determine their current online reputation. "Our free reports will show you what your current reputation is, and what you can do to improve it," adds Dr. Miinala. "Based on this, clients can decide to sign up with us or take out the Dress Shop Snapshot package, for instance. We are ready to discuss what the best options are."
