Playtime Felt Board Stories Move To Amazon Prime For Customer Convenience

June 11, 2015

June 11, 2015 -
Playtime Felts, a children's toy company, has announced their move to Amazon Prime for the convenience of their customers. This will offer consumers the ability to purchase products and receive them within the free two-day shipping time guaranteed to all Amazon Prime members. The completion of this move will take effect on July 31, 2015, and the company has reported that this will be just in time for teachers and nursery leaders to make purchases for classroom activities. They have said the following regarding their felt products and how they work:

"Children love listening to stories. They love even more to retell what they know by sequencing their thoughts with pictures. We call this the fun felt, hands-on learning approach. Toddlers, preschoolers and kindergarteners will always enjoy reaching for soft felt figures as long as there are felts to reach for. Give your child the advantage of expanding their knowledge by using our soft felt images while retelling a super fun story."

The Playtime Felts products are being sold through the company's Amazon.com sales portal, and currently offer more than forty different felt board story sets for use. One of the best-selling sets includes their African Animals Story Set, which gives teachers and students the chance to play with animals such as an ostrich, a lion, a rhinoceros, a cheetah, a black mamba, a African wild dog, a crocodile, a colobus monkey, and more. The sets include all of the animals' names as well as their images for a higher level of learning as the stories progress using the felt pieces. Other sets come with Animal Farm Babies, Fun Felt Shapes, Community Workers, and Our Five Senses.

Playtime Felts on Amazon currently sell for $19.99, and include a fun felt story script with each set. This is promoted as a great way for teachers and other individuals to get into the spirit of the learning tool and build a curriculum or story guide. They are also an asset due to their ability to be used on any flannel board for convenience and flexibility in the classroom. They explain:

"Educational concepts swirl around children unnoticed everyday. It's our job as parents, teachers and librarians to help children gain a clearer understanding with each concept being taught. Any one of our felt board stories will help children make connections to the real world in a memorable way. Playtime Felts can encourage your little ones to connect meaning to their world simply through fun storyline play."

The company offers a number of promotions, giveaways, and coupon codes to those who are willing to participate in sharing their experiences and learning techniques with the felt story accessories. They are reportedly very interested in how teachers, daycare leaders, and parents are using the felt objects in their stories and lessons. For more incentives, Playtime Felts invites businesses and individuals to visit their website, join them through a special membership, and contact them for more information on the felts, flannel boards, and story ideas.
