

David Lelong Announces the Launch of the New iPas2 System

July 09, 2014

July 09, 2014 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Brooklyn, New York: David Lelong is pleased to announce the launch of a review of the elite online marketing iPas2 system. The iPas2 marketing system provides beginner and experienced Internet marketers with all of the tools and training needed to create a successful online business. With the launch of the iPas2 system, marketers receive everything from education to personal attention and done-for-you marketing content and systems, simply giving beginner and experienced marketers the right tools for success.

iPas2 is a front-end product which empowers networking and business opportunities. "There is an arsenal of income generating tools right at your disposal, all of which give you the ability to earn commissions over and over again," said David Lelong. The iPas2 system combines training, interaction and personal coaching to drive success and meet the needs of individuals and experienced marketers. "You get access to private business coaches who help you create a personalized action plan and help you get started generating results quickly," said David Lelong.

From his iPas2 review, consumers are provided with information about the iPas2 system as well as opportunities to learn how to promote the new system. At ipaslaunch.com, consumers can create their own account to access training programs, learn about the tools that make the iPas2 system a leading industry marketing platform, and how to easily get started right away. The training offers the chance for online marketers to gain the confidence they need when building their business online. The training development techniques give team members the ability to receive one-on-one coaching with individual coaching plans to measure progress. "All the tools you need for success are given to everyone, giving self-motivated individuals a clear path to advancement," said Lelong.

To learn more and to help decide if iPas2 is a good fit, consumers can access the new iPas2 review at <http://davidlelong.com/ipas2-review/>. Simply put, the iPas2 system involves a process of learning, doing and teaching. If you're still not sure the system is right for you, David Lelong is happy to answer any questions about iPas2 and how you can get started today.

About David Lelong

David Lelong is an ex-corporate marketing guy now helping people build out their own online businesses. His review of the new iPas2 system is comprehensive and answers many questions and concerns consumers may have about the new system. David Lelong has launched <http://davidlelong.com/ipas2-review/> as a way for consumers to get answers for questions they have about the iPas2 system.

Contact:

David Lelong

45 Main Street, Suite 515

Brooklyn, NY 11201

(201) 743-8081

david@davidlelong.com

###