Alezan Mobile Launches FlexPro Camera Stick On Amazon In Time For National Selfie Day

June 10, 2015

June 10, 2015 -
Alezan Mobile, a business focusing on electronic device accessories in Saint Louis, MO, has released their new Alezan FlexPro All In One Selfie Stick in time for National Selfie Day. The device is said to be the best selfie stick on the market yet. To celebrate the launch, customers are offered a $6 discount by entering code SELFIEDY on checkout.

"Selfies are everywhere nowadays," says Lisa Chestnut from Alezan Mobile. "Social media is full of people trying to outdo each other with extreme selfies involving animals, natural beauty and various fun or unusual things. Indeed, selfies are now so popular that there is even a National Selfie Day. We have released our selfie stick with a $6 discount just in time to celebrate this day."

The Alezan FlexPro All In One Selfie Stick is a wired monopod with which to take selfies. It is waterproof and highly durable. Various mobile devices can be used on it, including all iPhones, most Android phones and GoPro Hero. It is an extendable selfie stick that comes with built in shutter control for videos and photos. It is very easy to use and has simple twist to lock technology to keep the camera in place. It is presented in leather jacket black, which makes it look really stylish. Finally, Alezan Mobile is committed to customer service and the quality of their products, which is why they also offer a 100% money back guarantee and lifetime product warranty.

National Selfie Day will take place on June 21, 2015. It is a day in which the art of taking selfies will be celebrated across the globe. People from all over the world are asked to take selfies and share them online with the rest of the world, essentially creating a selfie community.

The idea of National Selfie Day began with DJ Rick McNeely, who works for Fishbowl Radio Network, a radio network in Arlington, TX. What started as an idea is now a global phenomenon, with companies like Alezan Mobile taking part in it. The aim of the day is to make sure people are able to take selfies and have fun doing so, while being creative at the same time. These photographs can then be shared on Facebook with the rest of the world. The only real rule is that the selfies have to be clean.

In order to get the $6 off for their selfie stick, customers only have to order the device through Amazon or the Alezan Mobile website, entering code SELFIEDY when they go through checkout. If they order it as soon as possible, they may still be able to receive their stick by June 21. That way, they can immediately join in with National Selfie Day.

###

For more information about Alezan Mobile, contact the company here:Alezan MobileLisa Chestnuthello@alezanmobile.comPeppersville Strategies, LLC4256 Juniata StSaint Louis, MO 63116

Alezan Mobile

Alezan Mobile is passionately dedicated to the consumer market by providing technology products that are high quality and easy to use for individuals on the go. ?Technology to Fit Your Lifestyle? is our driving force to bring the best to the marketplace.

Website: http://alezanmobile.com

Email: hello@alezanmobile.com