

Cryogen-x10 Acoustic Guitar Strings Released On Amazon With 40% Discount To Much Fanfare

June 13, 2015

June 13, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Pure Sound of Freedom, has today released their Cryogen-X10 Acoustic Guitar Strings on Amazon with a 40% discount. The strings are medium gauge phosphor, making them suitable for both beginner and advanced guitar players. They are made in the USA and their quality is guaranteed. Pure Sound of Freedom bets that offering these strings at a discount will help more people learn just how great these strings are, as well as giving them a chance to learn how to play this fantastic instrument.

"The guitar is one of the most popular instruments in the world and for good reason," says Herve Dahinden. "There is nothing quite like sitting around a campfire listening and singing along to what is essentially live music. For us, the guitar is the true freedom instrument, which is reflected in our business name as well. Our strings are designed to help people achieve that sense of freedom and hopefully help them to become better guitar players as well."

The strings are designed to truly empower the guitar and the performance of the player. They are made of 92/8 phosphor bronze, which is the best alloy for guitar strings. They come in four different gauges, being medium, light, medium light and super light. Prices do not defer depending on the gauge of the strings.

People can click here to access the different gauges.

Pure Sound of Freedom brands guitar strings been made in this country for 75 years, which truly makes them an expert in the field. They guarantee that the strings will last around three times longer than any lesser brand. Indeed, the extended life performance's quality has been proven time and time again. As the strings are made from a steel alloy, they are free from corrosion and will never rust.

The strings have only been listed on Amazon for a short period of time. However, they have already received a range of positive reviews, in which guitar players explain just how much they have enjoyed the strings. Pure Sound of Freedom expects these reviews to continue to come in.

"These strings are superior quality!" says Sam Stager. "They sound great, feel good, and I'm hoping the tone lasts a long time. So far I am very pleased. I play guitar in a local band and go through strings like ice cubes on a hot day. I'm glad I found these and will definitely purchase again."

Pure Freedom has a clear motto for these Cryogen-X10 strings: Best Guitar Strings Now! Anyone is encouraged to give them a try, whether they are just learning or are playing on stage for sold out stadiums. They are guaranteed to enjoy the feel and tone of them.
