June 13, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Dunloor, a business in Lindfield, NSW, Australia, is the producer of the Jeeves Deluxe Wine Saver, which is available on Amazon. While it has been available for some time, it has recently seen a surge in positive reviews. As a consequence the company has decided to offer it with a 34% discount for a limited time only. The wine aerator and preserver, which usually costs $31.95, is therefore now available for just $20.95. It is hoped that this special discount, and the wealth of positive reviews, will encourage more wine lovers to purchase it.

"We were, and remain, committed to delivering an efficient and elegant product to our customers," says Kevin Bloor from Dunloor. "We have been overwhelmed with just how well this product has taken off, however. As a way to say thank you for all the positive reviews, we are now making the product available for customers with a significant discount for a limited time only. The product includes the efficient stainless steel wine saver vacuum pump, two elegant aerating wine bottle pourers and two push button stoppers. Plus, we send it out in an attractive gift box."

The wine stoppers come with a patented valve design and three sealing rings. This allows an excellent vacuum seal to be created, allowing the wine to remain good over the course of a number of days. The company is fully committed to the quality of its products, which is why it comes with a lifetime full replacement guarantee, no questions asked.

The goal of the product was to enable more people to enjoy wine without causing drips when pouring. Their device allows them to achieve that, while at the same time aerating the wine while it is poured. Furthermore, no longer will leftover wine be turned into vinegar. Rather, the pump will extract the air from the bottle, so the wine doesn't break down and oxidize, it will remain fresh inside the bottle for as much as 10 days.

The reviews have been overwhelmingly positive as well. "I was a little skeptical that there was really a 'need' for a wine vacuum pump when my best friend told me about it last summer. First of all, who ever has 'left over' wine anyway?! Right?", says Mnstlgirl. "But there are some times when I don't finish a bottle (mostly because my best friends aren't over and because my husband doesn't like wine) so this actually comes in really handy! I was interested in this product because it is a complete set -- not just the pump but also the stoppers and the pourers. I can't even fully describe how much better the wine tasted when I used this product. I'd like to say it tasted like a brand-new bottle, which it did...and that's about the best I can do to sum it up. I don't think you'll be disappointed at all!"

The product also makes for a wonderful gift, as it is presented so nicely. Furthermore, every purchase of the wine aerator and preserver now comes with a free eBook, The Good Wine Guide.
